CORRIGAN SAYS M'INTYRE DID NOT TRY WITH NOTASULGA.

Trevelyan Says Her Defeat February 12 Was Not Jockey's Fault-Judge Post Whips the Speedy Colloguy.

New Orleans, La., March 8 .- There is a lively ow on here over the integrity of jockey W. McIn-Edward Corrigan, firm in the conviction that McIntyre did not try to win with Notasulga in the first race, Tuesday, February 12, suggested to Judge Trevelyan after Notasulga's victory in the National Stakes that McIntyre be put under the ban. Judge Trevelyan expressed a different opinion and declined to take action against the boy. Mr. says he will recommend to the license Mr. Corrigan now committee of the American Turf Association that McIntyre's license be revoked. In the race in which Notasulga was beaten on that day there were thirteen starters. There was a jam just after the start. Alverby was knocked down, broke a leg and was destroyed. Gresham, held to be the cause of the crowding, won, but was disqualified, Princess Sue getting the purse and Notasulga second place. Mr. Corrigan claims that he clearly saw the boy pull Notasulga up at the start and never make a move on her until the race was practi-cally over. The judges, however, are equally as confident that McIntyre used every effort to win. They say that all the evidence in the case shows that it was through no fault of the rider that Notasulga got away poorly. It is cited further that when starter Cassidy returned from the post he was asked by the officials how the accident to Alverby occurred. Both Cassidy and his assistant, Harry Morrissey, said that jockey Jack Martin, who had the mount on Gresham, pulled across to the inside directly after the start causing a mix-up, in which half the field was wedged together and that Alverby fell before they had gone a sixteenth. They said that McIntyre was fortunate in not going down with Notasulga, as he was right in the middle of the scrimmage and saved himself only by pulling up. Cassidy and his assistant are still positive that their view of the accident is the correct one. Both Trevelyan and Cassidy are much wrought up over the matter and say that they will not return to City Park in an official capacity next year. Judge Trevelyan today requested President Heaslip to arrange for a substitute for him next week. He says per sonal business demands his presence at Charlottes-ville, Va., for a fortnight, but says he will return here for the last two weeks of the season, that is the first two weeks in April. It was arranged that William Shelly is to be the presiding judge and David Barnes will be his associate.

Judge Post, one of Burlew & O'Neill's eligibles to the City Park and Crescent City Derbys, started today for the first time since January 17. He met some fast sprinters in the six furlongs handicap, but showed that he is right on edge and ready for a gruelling struggle by beating Colloquy out after a furious drive. Judge Post was a keen contender at all stages, being right up with the leaders from the moment the barrier was sprung. He was ridden by James Hennessy. It is acknowledged by all who have seen this colt run that he needs a strong, vigorous rider to make him do his best, so this makes his victory today all the more creditable. Jockey Nicol was in rare form today. He had a mount in every race—finished first in four, second in one, third in another, and fourth in another.

While schooling Arc Light for James Arthur this morning, steeplechase jockey Charles Johnson got a

A capital card is offered for tomorrow afternoon with the Pickwick Steeplechase as the stake feature. Many of the best horses in training here are named to start, among which Dona H., Lute Foster, Bosom Friend; Heart of Hyacinth, Kara, The Thrall; Sir Toddington, Planute, Refined; St. Volma, Arabo, Uncle James; Mary Morris, Foreigner, Reside; To oggan, Charlie Eastman, Juggler; Bitter Brown, Cull and Quagga have shown good form on many T. BURLEW & O'NEILL HOLD BEST HAND.

Experienced Horsemen Think They Can Win the City Park Derby with Gild.

New Orleans, La., March 8 .- Interest in the City Park Derby is growing apace as the form of the various candidates is revealed in the racing. The victory of Yankee Girl over Tileing has attracted attention to the daughter of Sir Dixon and Breakwater as a possibility, but in this race she only carried eighty-nine pounds, while in the Derby she will have to take up 112. The colts in the Derby are of such good quality that it does not look as though any of the fillies could have winning chances

While the Burlew & O'Neill entry will be most in the public eye, with Gild the selected one if he E. Durnell's Temaceo, E. Corrigan's Planute and P. Dunne's Lens are all factors to be reckoned To date Planute has had three races, in the first two of which he showed poorly, but these were regarded merely as preparatory to the Derby and as the colt has grown and improved greatly

The Undine Stakes is of short history, although it was first run in 1894, when Felix Carr piloted Pat Murphy to victory for Adolph Spreckels. It was then discontinued until last year, when Horace E. added its spoils to Barney Schreiber's bank account. Named after Thomas H. Williams' stable name, it is quite probable that he will reap its honors this afternoon. Its short record is as follows;

over his two-year-old form, he may be expected to how advantageously in the big local event. Temaceo's California form is good enough to give him winning chances, but the long journey here, even with the stop at Los Angeles for work, may militate against bim, as a matter of three or four days on the cars is very trying to any horse, and especially a young horse. However, he may strip for the race in prime condition. It may be taken into account that Durnell is both a good trainer and a good horseman, and he would hardly send so valuable a colt here for the Derby unless he thought he could win it.

spite of his defeat by Yankee Girl, Tileing may yet have a chance in the race, and especially should the track be heavy. But his race over the mile and a furlong route indicated a lack of staying power, and as the Derby is at a mile and a quarter he can hardly be considered as a dangerous element although up to that particular race he would bave been first or second choice for the event. A coll so far has received practically no attention at all in Derby considerations is P. Dunne's Lens. This was by far the best colt that raced at City Park last winter. He was rested up most of the ner season, but has won several purses here this winter over sprinting distances.

The doubt as to Lens is as to whether he will go the route. But he is bred and built to stay. Apparently a small colt, Lens girths more than any three-year-old here. His ability to go a route has not been tested. If he can travel the mile and of quarter he should have chances in the race second He is put up, however, on sprinting lines, and his winning of the race would be a surprise to experienced horsemen who have been figuring on the possible outcome of the contest.

Gild is by all odds the best type of Derby horse here. Lengthy, big bodied, well muscled, he is equipped to carry weight and go any rate. He displayed his quality early in the meetings here when, as a two-year-old, he took up weight, conceded big weight to older horses, and beat them at a mile and a mile and a sixteenth. If Gild starts he will be a top heavy favorite, and barring acci-But Burlew & O'Neill have dents he will win. expressed a great desire to win the Crescent City Derby with him and he may be reserved for that He certainly will be reserved should the track be heavy as the stable reliance will then be placed on Sir Toddington. This colt is the next best Derby type of local candidates. He is a lengthy, big, strong colt, and that he has not shown better form than he has on fast tracks is due to quarter cracks. The third string to the Burlew bow is Judge Post. $\,$

Bitter Miss appears to be the pick of the filly At the Louisville and Latonia fall meet ings Bitter Miss showed to be not only the best of her sex in the west, but the equal of any of the colts. She can carry weight, will go a route, is game to the core, and can run in any going. If any of the fillies land in the money Bitter Miss is the likely Pink Star is another candidate that has received little attention. This is a good colt, as he proved at Latonia last season. He is put up on Derby lines and while his races this winter have shown little he is in prime condition. He may be expected to put up a good performance in the race. Thus, the conclusion is, that Burlew & O'Neill can win the race with Gild on any kind of a track, if he starts, and with Sir Toddington on a heavy track, and that Temaceo and Bitter Miss are most likely to be the contenders.

WANTS BETTER CONTROL OF RACING.

Senator McCall Moves to Amend New York Law as to Appointment of Stewards.

Senator McCall, of New York, introduced a bill in the Legislature at Albany to "amend Chapter 570 of the Laws of 1895 for the incorporation of associations for the improvement of the breed horses, to regulate same and to establish a State Racing Association in relation to the appointing of stewards or judges." The act is amended by in-serting therein a new section to read as follows:

serting therein a new section to read as follows:

"The Jockey Club and the National Steeplechase Association, as the case may be, may appoint stewards or judges for the running race meeting or steeplechase meeting subject to its jurisdiction; but before a person so appointed shall act as such his appointment must be certified by the Jockey Club or National Steeplechase Association to the State Racing Commission and also to the supervisor of taxes for running race meetings, appointed pursuant to section 20 of this act and approved by at least two members of such commission and by such supervisor of taxes. If such appointment is disapproved by either the State Racing Commission or by such supervisor of taxes, the Jockey Club or National Steeplechase Association may in like manner appoint another person to act as steward or judge, whose appointment must also be approved as provided by this act. No person shall act as a steward or judge of a running race or steeplechase meeting whose appointment has not been approved by the State Racing Commission and by the supervisor of taxes, as provided by this section, and any person who shall so act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. "This act shall take effect immediately."

The bill was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The bill was referred to the Judiciary Committee. Senator McCall, in explaining his measure, said he was an enthusiastic friend of the racetrack and that racing properly conducted is the grandest of all sports, and that abuses in the management should be stopped by the legislature.

"Persons at Albany favorable to racing are in accord with the idea involved in Mr. McCall's proposed amendment to the racing laws," says the New York Morning Telegraph. "It has long been New York Morning Telegraph. "It has long been felt that the Racing Commission, which has a recognized legal status and is supreme in racing matters, should, as the Racing Commission, pay direct attention to the management of the sport. The stewards of the various meetings in this state, always appointed by the Jockey Club, and who have never been directly indorsed by the Racing Commission, have not always been as strict in their deportment as the friends of the sport might desire Mr. McCall might improve his amendment by stipulating that stewards approved of by the Racing Commission shall be regularly paid by the race-tracks at which they act, and that their compensation per day shall be big enough for the important These paid stewards, it is contended, should a solemn obligation to attend strictly to their duties and take an oath not to bet. Also, it is contended, they should be men in full por of their physical faculties.

"By employing paid stewards obligated not to bet the unedifying practice of regularly appointed stewards delegating their authority to others in order that they may make bets on their own or other persons' horses will disappear. It is the opinion of members of the legislature favorable to racing that it is not a good thing to have amateur stewards directing cases in which their closest friends are involved in sums ranging from $1,000 to $100,000. But that feature of the McCall amendment giving the collector of racing taxes a voice in the selection of stewards is decidedly unpopular. It will be vigorously opposed. There is no reason why a mere clerk should take part in the deliberans of such a body as the Racing Commission.

The New York Sun comments as follows on the amendment: "Senator McCall's proposal has caused some talk among turfmen, who have come to regard the Jockey Club and the Commission as one and the same thing. Senator McCall says that the stewerds in most cases last year were either incompetent or unfair, and that in his opinion there were many cases of rank favoritism involving jockeys who indulged in foul riding."

RAPID WATER WINS THE HANDICAP.

Sandy Not Sufficiently Energetic on Northwest-J. J. Walsh Buys Sir Edward.

Oakland, Cal., March 8.—Rapid Water won the handicap this afternoon and Collector Jessup, Proper and Sugarmaid were among those behind him. He scored an impressive victory. Sandy failed lamentably on Northwest in the race at one mile and a sixteenth that followed the feature. The Borgian led throughout. Sandy finished sitting still. Adena Rapid Water and Ruby were the successful choices J. D. Millin's Maud McG. won the second. McCafferty took the third with Dave Weber. Ruby found the fast track to her liking and, after many costly failures, made good in the last. The weather was fine and fully 8,000 racegoers were at the course. Sir Edward changed hands this morning. J. J. Walsh acquired the crack four-year-old for the reported price of $10,000.

The best two two-yes r-olds carded to start in the Undine Stakes tomorrow afternoon and a great attendance is sure to result. from this star feature many fast horses are named to start, among which Vinton, Triumphant, Blanche C.; Graphite, Black Prince, Huston; Sir Edward, Fireball, Security; Firestone, Raconteur, Boas; Dr. Leggo, Ramus, Vox Populi; Corn Blossom, Mandator and Happy Rice are in good form at present.

DELAWARE BILL IS WITHDRAWN.

Dover, Del., March 8 .- The racing bill introduced in the house of representatives of the Delaware legislature Tuesday by Representative Bennum of Sussex county has been withdrawn from the calendar by its author. As the bill was framed literally from the Percy-Gray law of New York, it was be lieved that it would be passed. A mistake was made in presenting the measure under an extraneous title the notices having been first given in the senate. whereas they should have been given in the house owing to the revenue nature. A poll of the legis lature beforehand was very encouraging to the promoters. They agreed, however, to the withdrawal. The fact that the measure provided for a lump tax to the state of $50,000 a year for good roads by every racing association in Delaware was a strong feature, particularly as the state is now unable to meet its fixed expenses.

BLAKESTOWN BREAKS DOWN.

New York, March 8.—Richard Croker's Blakestown, entered in the big handicaps for this year, will not be shipped to this country after all. She has broken down and will be retired to Mr. Croker's stud farm in Ireland.

HAGGIN AGAIN OWNS TODDINGTON.

Lexington, Ky., March 8.—At the Rancho del Paso dispersal sale in New York in December, 1905, the Melton stallion, Toddington, was sold to E. R. Thomas. It is announced that J. B. Haggin has bought the horse back and will bring him here to make the season at Elmendorf.

ASK STATE TO TAKE A HAND.

CITIZENS' UNION WANTS ATTORNEY. GENERAL TO ENFORCE AMIS LAW.

Committee Goes to Little Rock with an Appeal-Reward Is Offered for Convictions-The Day at Oaklawn.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 8 .- W. H. Hallman, president of the Citizens' Improvement Union, accompanied by four other members of that organiza-tion, went to Little Rock this afternoon as a committee to urge the enforcement of the Amis law at Oaklawn. They will make their appeal to the Attorney General, claiming that Garland County officials have failed to perform their duty as specified by the law. In addition to this the Citizens' Improvement Union has posted prominently a reward of $100 for information that will bring about a third conviction of any person or persons under the Amis law. None of the persons arrested on charges of betting have been convicted. Their cases have been continued from time to time. The trials that were expected today were continued until Monday.

The racing today was featureless and there was little or no enthusiasm, although a fair sized crowd was present. Jockey Englander piloted three winners out of five mounts. With Hollow he scored a hard earned victory in the opening race. The colt had been bought by T. P. Hayes just before post time for a reported price of $1,500, and little surprise was occasioned when P. King bid him up $300 over his entered price of $600. He was retained. On Reine Regente in the fourth, the only race without selling conditions, Englander simply had to sit still to win. Tyrolian, in the closing race, outclassed the others and won as Englander pleased. Englander will leave with Jules Garson tomorrow for Benning.

Chancellor had to be much the best to win the fifth race. He was buffeted about, but came with a well-timed rush through the stretch. The judges gave Shilling a lecture for his poor riding. R. L. Thomas only recently purchased Chancellor from Chinn & Forsythe.

Jockey J. Ryan was painfully hurt about the legs this morning when a fractious horse bolted into the fence with him. Adesso, recently claimed by F. Gering, Jr., for $700, was returned today to J. Gass.

A good card of six races is provided for tomorrow and among the speedy horses named to start, Erebus, Toro, Aunt Hala; J. D. Dunn, Sir Vagrant, startle; Lord Dixon, Suzanne Rocamora, Jack Lory; Braden, The Bear, Mike Sutton; Scalplock, Bendigo, Big Bow; King Wilda, Balshot and Miss Affable are in good form at present. J. L. Dempsey.

EXTENSION PRACTICALLY CERTAIN.

Ascot Officials, However, Have Made No. Positive Announcement-More Rain.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 8.—General Manager Brooks was asked today if the meeting at Ascot Park is to be extended. He said he could make no positive announcement. However, it is almost a certainty that the meeting will not end until March 30, making 105 days instead of ninety, as originally scheduled. The bookmakers have been told that there is to be an extension and the public generally has the same impression.

There was another heavy shower just before noon, keeping down the attendance and leaving the track it two straight when Ormonde's Right made he won the fourth race at a mile. Borghesi has evidently trained off. The Roustabout ran a most dis appointing race in the fifth. Barney Schreiber was present to see Sainrida win.

With the Santa Monica Stakes for two-year-olds as the central attraction, excellent racing is promised for tomorrow afternoon, with such fast horses as Kamsack, Big Store, Taos; Toupee, Platoon, Fustian; Cello, Don Domo, Platoon; Balbus, Magazine, Booger Red; Goldspot, Jack Little, Freesias; Sly Ben, La Chata and Black Eyes among those named to go to E. F. O'Malley. the post.

WILL MEMPHIS HAVE A MEETING?

A dispatch from New Orleans last night says that there is a well defined rumor in the Crescent City that the New Memphis Jockey Club will hold a meeting at Montgomery Park beginning April 15. No orroboration or denial is forthcoming from Memphis. The stakes have not been declared off, as would be permitted under the proviso made at the time of their closing, which was prior to the enactment of the Foust law, but a fortnight ago Secretary Macfarlan made the statement that there was small hope for a meeting. It may be that the situation has lately taken on a new aspect. Daily Racing Form's Memphis correspondent, however, says the general impression is that no meeting will be held at Montgomery Park this year.

CONVILLE IS SICK AT MEMPHIS.

Memphis, Tenn., March 8 .- Trainer Henry Mc-Daniel announced today that L. A. Cella's Conville will not start in the Crescent City Derby at New Orleans, March 23. The colt is so sick veterinary surgeon advised the trainer that would be jeopardized by further attempts to get him ready for a race on that date. Montgomery, which is expected to carry the colors of Chinn & Forsythe in the Derby, worked a mile in 1:46 today. Horsemen called the performance good,

DID CELLA RUMOR STOP LICENSE?

New York Folks Think It Had a Bearing on the Butler Application.

J. Russell Soley, as attorney for James Butler, has denied that Louis A. Cella has had or is to have any connection with the management of the Empire City track, yet in New York there appears to exist the belief that rumors of such a connection had more to do with the Racing Commission's refusal of a license for the Yonkers track than the reasons stated in its resolution denying the Butler applica-tion. The fact that Butler was seeking aid outside of New York in 1905, when he made a proposition to Edward Corrigan, gave color to the gossip that some similar arrangement might have been suggested to Louis A. Cella. New York, while not objecting to Cella as the owner of racehorses, has no great admiration for him as the owner of racetracks. New York's newspapers, some of them at any rate, believe that it was the Cella monopoly of tracks and domination of betting at St. Louis that caused Governor Folk to put an end to racing in Missouri. They believe, too, that had the Cella combination been kept out of the south no laws forbidding betting would have been passed in Tennessee and Arkansas; that Kentucky would not have found it necessary to put the government of racing into the hands of a commission and that there would not now be rumors of legislative action in Louisiana.

In this connection the Morning Telegraph makes the very emphatic statement: "If the State Racing Commission had the merest inkling that Cella might secure control of the Empire City track they would have needed no further justification for their refusal to grant a license to James Butler to conduct a

In another paragraph the same paper says: thing for him (Butler) to do under the circumstances, it would seem, is to file at Albany a new application for a license, with proof that Cella has

Here in the west conditions are so well understood that to enter into a discussion as to the foundation for these New York beliefs would be merely waste of time and space. But a summary of the Cella movement in racing since the days of the St. Louis electric light track as illustrative of the vastness of the Cella fortune and the power of that money is not inopportune. The Cella interests built the Delmar Park track. They bought the St. Louis Fair Grounds for $1,000,000. They were denied recognition by the Western Jockey Club in 1901, and, to further a fight against that new organization. they backed a meeting at Douglas Park track at Louisville in the fall of that year, and bought the Kinloch Park plant at St. Louis to prevent further opposition from the Western Jockey Club in that arter, and finally succeeded in securing recognition to the extent of two members in that body. They made the Union Park track a total loss for its promoters and backers and then bought the grand tand when the plant was demolished. They secured the Hill stock in the New Memphis Jockey Club against the wishes of the directors of that body and then added to their holdings in that organiza tion by buying the stock of the late Captain S. S. Brown. They secured control of Clinton Park at Little Rock, bought an interest in the Oaklawn track and contributed to the deal that closed the gates of Essex Park. They bought stock in the Crescent City Jockey Club and are now in practical control of the New Orleans Fair Grounds. They bought the Douglas Park track at Louisville and remodeled it at a big expenditure and threatened to clash against the old Churchill Downs. This caused the creation of a Racing Commission in Kentucky. They went into the courts on the question of the constitutionality of that law and lost. They next threatened to build a track to run in opposition to Latonia and made it strong enough to buy into the Latonia Jockey Club, and a few days ago one of their men was made treasurer of that club. They couldn't get it all at Louisville, but they have succeeded in bringing about an agreement under which they will have a half interest in the profits of both tracks there. They have bought the Grosse Pointe track at Detroit and have a big interest in the ownership of the Fort Erie track, which is to pass into their hands after the meeting this ye They have operated poolrooms in Illinois and Missouri and it is claimed that they are now backing the Huber's Garden room at Newport, Ky. They are likewise credited with a big interest in the Interstate News Company, which has been dis-seminating betting and racing results since the racing department of the Western Union Telegraph

The New York Sun in its comments on the re fusal of a license to Butler does not mention the rumored Cella connection. It says: "Much sympathy expressed by leading horsemen yesterday the Empire City racetrack in view of its inability to secure a license from the State Racing Commission for a summer meeting in August. Those who read the decision handed down by the commission declared that the reasons ascribed for the turndown of James Butler and his friends were flimsy to say the least. They pointed out that in spite of the declaration of the commissioners that dates were undesirable, and that for this reason Empire City could not conduct a meeting on the dates assigned to the Saratoga track; it is neverthe less a fact that the commission has granted a license to Kenilworth Park, Buffalo, which will hold a meet ing this year that will conflict with the sport at two of the metropolitan tracks.

"The assertion of the commission that Empire City received a license and dates for a meeting in 1900 which was never held brought out the fact that William H. Clark, who built the Yonkers track died before he could inaugurate the sport there and that P. J. Dwyer then stepped in and managed a neeting instead. In view of the willingness of Mr Butler and his friends to comply with all the re quirements of the Jockey Club, which might entail the expenditure of thousands of dollars, horsemer said yesterday that the Empire track seemed entitled to a square deal. It was also pointed out that during the month of August the stables at the local tracks are crowded with horses belonging to owner who cannot afford to race at Saratoga and who would receive an excellent chance to win expenses if they vere permitted to race for even ordinary purses at

"As far as the metropolitan public is concerned it was shown that of the 10,000 regulars who daily visit the tracks in the vicinity of this city, not more that 2,500 ever go to the Spa, which means that in the event of a meeting at Mr. Butler's track enough patrons of the sport would be on hand to make up a comfortable gate. In resorting to the courts it is expected that Mr. Bufler's attorneys will attempt to prove that nearly all of the influential members of the Jockey Club hold stock in the Saratoga track as well as several other tracks operating under the law in this state. It has been shown that even without conflicting dates with Saratoga Empire City could have a meeting here if at least three racing days were lopped off the schedule of each of the various racing associations. Those who have the best interests of the turf at heart say that there should be no friction over Empire City, but that the Jockey Club should admit the track for the sake of harmony at a time when enemies of racing are doing their best to kill the sport all over the United States."

George E. Milner, a much improved horse, was badly outpaced for the first half, but was well served by the exhausting efforts of the early pacemakers and moved up gradually after turning for home, cance through with a rush in the last sixteenth and, catching The Roustabout tiring, passed him like a flash.

The Roustabout was carried along at a fast ellp for the first half and moved into an apparently easy lead after turning for home, but tired suddenly in the last sixteenth. Taxer was raced into early subjection

Judge Post was well handled and saved ground all the way, came through next to the rail when entering the homestretch and, finishing fast under a drive, got up in the last two strides. Colloquy ran on the outside of Belle Strome all the way and lost a couple of lengths when entering the homestretch, where she went wide and would have won with a better managed ride. Belle Strome got the best of the start and set a fast pace, but tired in the last eighth. The other two were always outpaced.
